Description

STATUS + Blu-Link — at one go you purchase everything you need to reinforce your tactical decisions on the field with real-time data — STATUS, the gun-mounted computer and Blu-Link, which allows you to connect to your TITAN or ASTER Electronic Trigger Units.

The STATUS gun-mounted computer is one of the most innovative airsoft accessories ever made. No more surprises with an empty magazine or a discharged battery. Take aim with precision thanks to the replica's angle indicator. Just connect your TITAN or ASTER Electronic Trigger Units via Blu-Link and use complete data as well as dozens of functionalities at your fingertips.

This sophisticated device mounted directly to standard RIS rails is equipped with an OLED display protected by polycarbonate glass covered with 3mk FlexibleGlass™ foil. Together with its water and dust resistant CNC aircraft grade aluminum body, IP68 certified, and meeting MIL-STD-810H* standards, is designed to operate even in challenging conditions.

NOTICE!

- To use the full potential of STATUS, connect it to ASTER or TITAN via Blu-Link. The tactical computer without a GATE Electronic Trigger Unit and the Bluetooth® dongle offers a limited number of functions.
- The STATUS screen is covered with a protective 3mk FlexibleGlass™ foil. In case of foil damage, replace it with a new one. Do not leave the screen unprotected to avoid scratching.
- Please note that due to different screen settings and light conditions, the color of the products in the pictures may be slightly different from the actual item. Color differences may also occur between different batches of the product.
- The AEG Replica visible in the picture is not included with this kit.
- Kit includes one STATUS tactical computer.

*MIL-STD-810H in temperature spikes, resistance to vibration and shock, resistance to solar radiation.
